

KUDOS and congratulations go to December's Classified Employee of the Month, Greg Wilton in Advanced Technology. Representatives of the Classified Professional Development Team joined staff in the Welding Building Lab to present Greg with the Employee of the Month award. Greg started working part-time at LCC in 1992 as a tool room aide. He started full-time in March 2001 as an instructional specialist in the Welding Program for Advanced Technology. Colleagues gave numerous examples to justify his receiving this award. To name just a few, Greg has outstanding rapport with students, staff, and vendors. He is creative and innovative; a pre-eminent problem solver. Greg is noted as having a great sense of humor and serves as a role model for effective communication and in problem solving. His philosophy, with tight resources, is "live within your means." A question he often asks is: "What can we do with what we have, and where can we find more?" Overall, Greg manifests integrity, honesty, and engenders respect. When you see Greg, congratulate him for doing a terrific job and celebrate his nomination as December's Classified Employee of the Month.

And remember that, you too, can help us to recognize exemplary classified employees by nominating them for this award by the 15th of each month. Nomination forms are available on the CPDT website at <http://www.lanecc.edu/cpdt/eom.html> or from Elaine Marsh, IRAP, marshe@lanecc.edu
