

2024-25 Scholarship Ambassador

ZECHARIAH

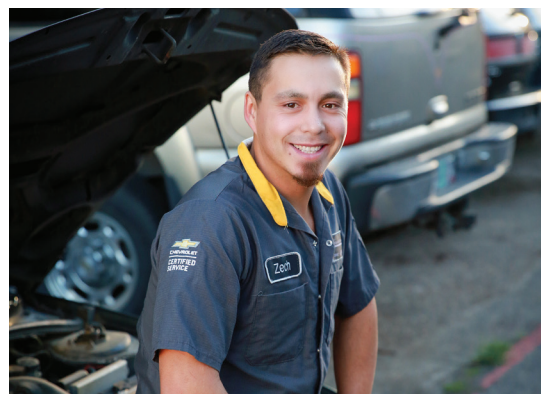

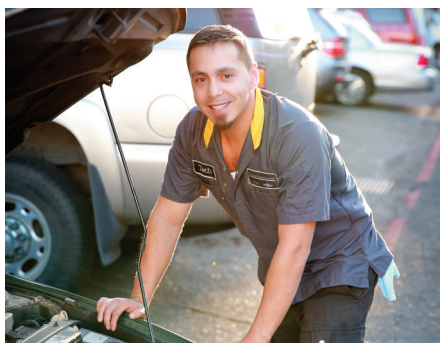

Zechariah | Auto Tech Student

As he pursues his degree in automotive technology at LCC, Zechariah can see the influence his choices and his successes have on his younger siblings — inspiring them to consider their own education and career options.

After dropping out of high school and serving in Job Corps, Zechariah concluded that school was not for him. Yet his GED teacher told him, “You’re learning this incredibly fast. Let me help you get into a college program.” Zechariah didn’t know what he wanted to do, but he knew he wanted to work with his hands. When he found LCC’s Automotive Technology program, he knew he found his place.

“The amount of encouragement and financial stability that comes from scholarships is hard to even put into words. I didn’t realize that there are so many people out there who want to help.”

Through his own experience investing in himself, Zechariah encourages others to do the same, even if it seems foreign, uncomfortable, or impossible.

I’m six months from being done with my associate degree. I bought a house, married and have a kid on the way. None of those things — if you’d asked me five years ago — I could’ve seen for myself.”

If you’re thinking you’re not a good fit, know that you are more than capable of doing what the instructors and the successful students are doing. We’re all capable of more than we can comprehend.”
